DEMAND FOR HEAVY HORSES CONTINUES GOOD AT ALMOST PROHIBITIVE PRICES

Enormous Number of Auto-Trucks Not Crowding Animals Out of Business as Many Are Led to Believe—Number Increased From 13,000,000 to 21,000,000 in Decade.

Profitable Animals on Any Farm.

(By JOSEPH MONTGOMERY, Secretary of Minnesota Stallion Registration Board.)

Never in the history of the draft horse has the future appeared so promising to breeders as now, despite the statements of a leading speaker at the annual meeting of the State Veterinarians' association at Minoapolis that the automobile and auto truck were driving it out of business. There is no reason, in the light of statistics, why the doom of the draft horse should be spelled by the auto.

Though the enormous number of auto-trucks in the cities might lead one to believe that they were crowding the draft horse out of business, actual figures do not prove it. Statistics in the office of the Minnesota stallion registration board show that the number of sires used in this state for horse-breeding has increased from 2,544 May 1, 1910, to 4,445 May 1, 1912. During the same period the number of registered stallions has increased 35 per cent, there now being over 1,400 in Minnesota. This is an excellent guide to conditions of the industry in this state and throughout the country.

Never in the history of the Chicago and St. Louis markets, the two largest ones in the United States, has the demand been so keen or the prices so high for high class horses of all types, especially the superior draft type. Statistics from the U. S. bureau of animal industry show that the number of horses in this country has increased from 13,500,000 to 21,500,000 in the past decade. The value of all horses in this country has increased from $45 to $115 in the same period. This has occurred despite the increase in the use of automobiles.

First class draft horses have been almost prohibitive in price this year because of the great demand for them and a team of drafters has often sold as high as $500 to $1,000. The demand for high class saddle and carriage horses in the eastern cities has been so great that their prices have been almost prohibitive to many who can afford automobiles.

All this should be very encouraging to persons in the United States interested in horse-breeding. When horses have increased at so rapid a rate the last two years, and prices have kept soaring in spite of the increase there is no reason to believe that the automobile will ever drive them out of business. Instead of the automobile causing a scarcity of horses, it would be more reasonable to say that the scarcity of horses has caused the temporary advent of the automobile and auto-truck.

Farmers in Minnesota need not fear to grow more horses. If they are large, sound, and serviceable, they will always demand the highest prices. The horse industry is founded on a permanent basis, and has no reason to conflict with the automobile industry in any way.

KEEPING POULTRY FREE FROM LICE

Recipe for Making Ointment Recommended by Prof. Graham—Also Kills Fleas.

What many breeders consider better than powder for killing lice and mites is an ointment recommended by Professor W. R. Graham of Guelph, Canada, one who has made a life study of poultry in the Dominion.

It is composed as follows: Mercury, 50 parts; lard, 25 parts; beef suet, 23 parts; oleate of mercury, 2 parts. The suet, if bought from the butcher, will have to be rendered over a fire and poured into the lard while it is warm, and then stir in the mercury and oleate of mercury. Use a table knife or spoon to do the stirring. Do not put hands into it. Should it prove too stiff to easily apply as an ointment, thin with a little cotton seed oil. All ingredients should be weighed rather than measured. Put it away in small vaseline bottles or boxes well covered, and it will keep for months. This ointment will rid poultry of head lice and Texas fleas. For other mites and lice rub it in well about the fluff below the vent and under the wings. It will not only kill the live vermin, but destroy the eggs as well.

It is a valuable thing for turkey raisers to use on the old and the young.

PEKIN DUCKS ARE QUITE PROFITABLE

My market ducklings are all raised from White Pekin ducks, which have the range of a half acre, five ducks to one acre, says a writer in the Poultry Journal. I use hens for mothers, setting the eggs about February 1. I sell them at ten weeks old, when they weigh from five to six pounds, and secure 14 to 16 cents a pound live weight. When the ducklings are first hatched I keep them in small quarters and feed about six times a day, giving mixed feed, a little cornmeal, cut clover and plenty of sand after the first week, about four times a day. At six weeks I give them all they will eat of clean, mixed feed, cornmeal, clover, with fresh meat from a rendering place. I feed two quarts of meat, with plenty of sand, to 25 ducklings. The little fellows get fed every time they open their mouths, and begin to walk around. When they are filled up they sit down and grow fat. My experience is at eight or nine weeks to give them all they can eat. I also feed green stuff as soon as it grows. The bulk of my feed the last week is meat and sand; all the meat they will eat. The man I sell to says my ducks beat all he sees; the meat is what does the work. Grain can't touch it. Pure water is essential in duck raising, and good yards, moved often in warm weather, as they are apt to sour. I feed all the sand I can mix in, keeping the ducklings quiet, and do not allow much exercise. All my ducks are sold live weight; it is just as profitable as the other way, and less trouble to handle them in that manner.

VALUE OF BLANKETING COWS

Practice Adopted in Australia Found to Give Excellent Results During Cold Weather.

For some years past a number of dairymen in Australia have adopted the practice of blanketing cows during wet and cold weather. The results in every case are spoken of as being highly satisfactory. When cows are kept warm the food they consume, instead of being utilized to maintain daily heat, is largely devoted to the production of milk, and in this way the dairyman realizes a large profit on the very small outlay required to provide blankets for his cattle in cold weather.

Men who have studied the subject closely say that the effect of covers on cows is very remarkable. The quiet cows become more quiet and contented, while those that are shy or nervous have their nerves soothed, and submit of being handled without fear. This is in fact of one or two men, but has become so common that the manufacturers have placed several kinds of blankets as covers on the markets, with a view of supplying the demand that has arisen.

It is said, however, that a home-made blanket, made from old wheat bags, serves the purpose as well as anything. After they have been worn for a short time they become thoroughly waterproof.

SAFETY HOLDER FOR BOTTLES

Authorized Person by Use of Key Can Open Lock and Remove Jar From Receptacle.

In describing an invention of G. F. Barr of Manhattan, N. Y., for holding milk bottles and other receptacles, the Scientific American says:

In the present invention is an improved safety holder for milk bottles, jars and the like receptacles, intended to be attached to a suitable support and to receive and retain a bottle against unauthorized removal.

Holder for Bottles.

An authorized person, by use of a key, can readily open the lock and swing the cover open for removal of the receptacle from the casing, as pictured in the perspective view of the safety holder for a milk bottle locked in position in the holder.

Profit of Cow.

The milk production alone is not what measures the profit of the cow. It is the difference between the cost of feed and the returns which the milk brings.

DAIRY NOTES

Close skimming means more skim-milk left on the place.

A bit more feed now that the pastures are getting shorter.

Is your bull gentle? Then get a ring in his nose before night.

Draining butter well before salting will help its keeping qualities.

Better a nose ring for the young bull than an accident afterward.

A brush to wash dairy utensils is more sanitary than the time honored rag.

A solid concrete base for the separator will lengthen the life of the machine.

It pays in more ways than one to be friendly with the young dairy stock.

Cooler weather and fewer flies will make milking a pleasanter chore from now on.

One mess of milk spoiled for lack of proper cooling will pay for a good aerator.

The big secret in keeping butter is to have it good to begin with, then keep it cold.

For a cheap but effective milk strainer nothing beats several thicknesses of cheesecloth.

Let the cream can have the coolest place in the cellar if a tank of cold water is not available.

Dairymen go by spurts, but don't you spurt. Keep a steady hand on the spouting apparatus.

Milk checks don't happen: they come from good feed, good care and good treatment generally.

A few armfuls of green forage cut and thrown into the barnyard will make up for short pastures now.

The less time lost between milking and separating, the better for the quality of both cream and skim-milk.

Proper rearing and judicious management will result in few bulls becoming vicious after they have grown old.

TEA TABLE EQUIPAGE

MANY AND VARIED ARE THE PRETTY THINGS OFFERED.

Modern Hostess Should Have No Trouble in Securing Perfect Appointments—Designers Certainly Have Done Their Best.

To almost every woman the tea table is a matter of especial pride, and to have her tea table equipped with the most charming furnishings or with novel and amusing ones is one of the great ambitions of her domestic life. There are so many attractive articles for the tea table that it is indeed difficult to choose among them, and there are so many attractive styles of furnishing it that almost all women have range of regret when they select one style only to find after several articles have been purchased that there are so many pretty things to be bought in quite a different style that will not at all accord with what they have already purchased.

For the Colonial tea table there is a wonderful old Revere silver. Of course only the women of great wealth can hope to obtain original pieces of this silver, but copies of it are made by modern silversmiths. The silver made by hand, with its wonderful color that no machine made pieces can attain, is the desire of all women who really are connoisseurs in the equipment of a tea table.

Then there is the Colonial china in its many quaint designs and adorable shapes, all of it expensive, but so delightful that it is well worth the investment. And the glass for such a tea table should be the fine old cut glass, just a little cut, not heavy and glaring like the modern pieces.

If one wants to have a tea table in the English style there is some new china in the old Chelsea pattern, white with black bands, on which there are rose garland decorations. This china harmonizes with the painted furniture and the black ground chintzes and brocades that are now so fashionable. With it the Sheffield plate pieces are in perfect accord. And the Dresden tea table, with its quaint little pieces so full of color, so charming in design! And the silver—wooden little hand-made pieces, which are really made by hand, and at a time, perhaps as long ago as the happy summers spent in European travel.

Lemon Bread Pudding.
One cup of bread crumbs wet with two cups boiling water. Let stand a little while. Add one-half cup sugar, grated rind of one lemon, piece of butter, salt and beaten yolks of two eggs. Bake rather slowly. When cold frost with frosting made of two beaten eggs (whites), one-half cup sugar, juice of whole lemon; if large, juice of one-half lemon. We do not care for this quite so sweet, but this is the way the rule reads. Brown the frosting in the oven or not, as you like. This can be made with milk, but you would really not know the difference when it is done.

Custard Cake.
One cup sugar, one-half cup butter, two eggs, well beaten all together. Add one-half cup sweet milk with two-thirds teaspoon soda dissolved in it; then two cups of flour in which is sifted one teaspoon of cream of tartar. Divide the batter. In one-half add two tablespoons molasses, one-fourth teaspoon cloves, same of nutmeg and cassia, one cup of raisins. Put dark cake in pan and bake 20 minutes; then remove from oven carefully and spread the light part on top carefully and bake 20 minutes longer.

Peanut Cookies.
Beat with a cream four tablespoonsful of butter and half a cupful of sugar, add two well-beaten eggs, four tablespoonsful of milk, one cupful of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder, one teaspoonful of essence of lemon or vanilla and one cupful of finely chopped peanuts. Drop from the point of a teaspoon on to buttered paper, leaving a good margin around each to prevent running together. Stick a split peanut on top of each cookie and bake in a medium oven.

Banana Cream Pie.
Line plate with crust and bake in hot oven, then cover with thin slices of banana (two will do nicely for one pie), then fill with a custard made with two cups of milk, two tablespoons of flour, yolks of two eggs, one teaspoonful of vanilla. Cook in double boiler until thick, drawing extract as you remove from fire. Pour over the bananas. Use the stiffly beaten whites for the meringue, and put in oven just long enough to brown nicely.

Filet of Beef en Casserole.
Cut a three-pound filet in slices one and a half inches thick. Tie each with cord; dust with salt and pepper. Put in an earthen casserole two tablespoonsful of butter; when it is hot put in the filets and cook five minutes on each side. Remove and cut off wine. Put in the casserole two tablespoonsful of browned bread crumbs and two of chopped pickles and parsley. Stir, and add butter. Put the filets back for a minute. Serve at once.

Appetizer Harts Dale.
On a nest of shredded lettuce place one large slice of raw tomato crossed with four strips of anchovies in oil unrolled in strips; sprinkle over the anchovy, which are striped on top of the tomato, fine chopped egg and a spoonful of French dressing. Serve on individual plates instead of oysters.

"Cardui Cured Me"

For nearly ten years, at different times, Mrs. Mary J. In's of Treadway, Tenn., suffered with womanly troubles. She says: "At last, I took down and thought I would die. I could not sleep. I couldn't eat. I had pains all over. The doctors gave me up. I read that Cardui had helped so many, and I began to take it, and it cured me. Cardui saved my life! Now, I can do anything!"

TAKE The CARDUI Woman's Tonic

If you are weak, tired, worn-out, or suffer from any of the pains peculiar to weak women, such as headache, backache, dragging-down feelings, pains in arm, side, hip or limbs, and other symptoms of womanly troubles, you should try Cardui, the woman's tonic. Prepared from perfectly harmless, vegetable ingredients, Cardui is the best remedy for you to use, as it can do you nothing but good. It contains no dangerous drugs. It has no bad after-effects. Ask your druggist. He sells and recommends Cardui.

There is no joy for the consumer in the proposed utilization of electric shocks for nourishing the human body, since the power companies would compel him to wear a cumbersome meter.

In thirty-four states the legislatures have ratified the proposed income tax amendment to the United States Constitution. Similar action in two more states is all that is needed. That does not mean that a Federal income tax will then become operative but only that Congress will have authority to levy one. If Congress uses that authority, the various states that have income taxes of their own will have to change their laws if they wish to save incomes from double taxation. It is estimated that the national tax will produce about sixty million dollars.

M. BERTILLON, the well known chief of the Paris anthropometric service, is engaged in giving a course of technical and practical police instruction to the new criminal brigade composed of 200 picked men of the police force. The courses which have now been organized at headquarters are likely to be of value in the future. The instruction is given in different branches by several specialists. The part which M. Bertillon has in charge includes conferences upon anthropometric service for identifying criminals, in which photographic views play an important part. Instruction courses of this kind also exist in other countries of Europe.

Mouth Breathing.

A correspondent writes to ask, "Why do I wake in the morning with a dry, uncomfortable throat and a bad taste in my mouth, in spite of the fact that I scrupulously obey all the laws of bedroom ventilation?" The question must be answered with another: "Do you sleep with your mouth open?" If you do, you are sure to feel wretched when you wake, for all night long you have been doing yourself harm instead of good.

The air you breathe should reach your lungs warmed and purified and moistened; instead of that, it has entered them cold and harsh and germ-laden. Can you wonder, then, that you wake tired and unfreshed, that your throat is sore and hoarse, or that the night was made fearful by nightmares?

Mouth-breathing means a poor complexion, a seriously altered expression of the face, and injured teeth. Many a young girl, once she has come to realize these facts, has cured herself in a few weeks or months. An appeal to her reasonable human vanity has accomplished speedily what years of nagging might have failed to bring about.

In some cases the cure depends upon the removal of mechanical obstructions to proper breathing. If the whole nasal cavity is filled with growths that only the surgeon can deal with, breathing except through the mouth, becomes impossible. But when a mouth-breather has learned that the nasal passages are not impeded, he must address himself patiently to correcting his bad habit.

He must take breathing exercises at regular intervals, and keep his mouth firmly closed except while eating or talking. To assist in breaking up the habit during sleep, he will sometimes find it a good plan to pass a light bandage under his chin and fasten it at the top of his head, or to close his lips with a little strip of surgeon's plaster.

"Corncob Pipes."

Under the above head the New York "Sun" for Tuesday, Dec. 3d, has an editorial relative to the poem "To My Old Cob Pipe," by Mr. Harry M. Dean, of this city, which appeared in THE RECORD Nov. 28th. The "Sun" is recognized as one of the leading critics of poetry among the newspapers of America, and to receive the reproduction and favorable comment accorded Mr. Dean is a signal favor which should please the writer very much. The "Sun" says:

"In The Record, of Greenville, Ky., Mr. Harry M. Dean invokes in a fervent and admirable ode his 'Old Cob Pipe,' whereof may we borrow three stanzas:

"I've tried 'em all, Old Timer, meerschaums and Java and clove,
Even tackled the hookah, but I had 'em all away;
For you are the best, Old Timer, ugly and black and frothy,
And I know when I give you the filling I'm sure for a straight up smoke."

"Friend in time of trouble, comrade when pleasures burn,
You give off your mind easing incense, asking naught in return;
Save that you have the filling a match to start the fire;
Then here's to you, Old Timer, pipe of my heart's desire."

"Your coat was probably a nickel; it isn't your coat to brag,
But since you're as good as your brother with the big pipe marked on the tag,
Then here's to you, Old Timer, for I know you're broke just right;
I'll give you one more filling; we'll burn it and say good night."

Of many kinds of pipes may words of affection be spoken truly. Perhaps a "T. D." comes nearest to the heart and lips; it is black but comely, and only the strong and skillful can smoke it triumphantly. The briarwood is the steady friend of nations. The rearing and education of a meerschaum requires perhaps too much unremitting care for a busy generation. The corn-cob used to have all the practical and many of the romantic virtues. We have known men compelled to frugality to make an excellent breakfast on a corn-cob pipe or two of tobacco. Your corn-cob lasted in a way not to be suspected from its apparent fragility and it had a wealth of flavor, a tang and bouquet of its own.

There was never a pipe better adapted to the open air and the wind. We don't recall any other pipe fitter to be smoked in bed by the careless or the well insured. Then there was some aroma of association about it. It suggested "Georgia Scenes" or the Ozarks. It was one of the most deliberate, easygoing and tranquil of pipes. About it was the haze of Indian summer, the rich reposefulness of the Hoos. Gum Shoe Bill—when he is not carrying the war into Africa. And your good old corn-cob pipe lived long.

Far be it from our hearts to say anything against an industry dear to Missouri and of the most benevolent production, but are corn-cob pipes what they used to be? Do they become charged with as amiable recollections? Hasn't the "Old Cob Pipe," so well sung by Mr. Dean, been affected, like everything else beneath the sky, by the high cost of living?

Messrs. Howard & Gray and Messrs. Taylor & Eaves have exchanged locations in their law offices, and their patrons will kindly bear this in mind.

Mrs. J. F. Rice was called to her home in Corinth, Miss., last week by the illness of her nephew, Mr. James Fred Wallace, who died last Sunday night, after suffering for some months from an abdominal tumor.

There is quite a scramble here for coal from the country banks, and so great is the rush the wagons get to the mines by 3 o'clock in the morning, and by daylight the supply is exhausted. The country bank men are behind on supply, and have no way to increase their output.

Dies From Cut of Saw.

Mr. William Eades fell against a saw at his mill near Bancroft last Tuesday morning, and was so seriously cut that he died from his injuries at 1:30 o'clock that afternoon. One leg was cut off, and his hip and side were badly lacerated. Mr. Eades was one of the well known men of the Depoy section, and was held in high regard by a wide circle of friends. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon, and interment was made in Oak Grove cemetery, a large audience being present. He is survived by seven children, his wife having died a few years ago.

Miss Mary Taylor left yesterday for Chicago, where she will resume her studies and work in her preparation as a trained nurse.

FRAIL, SICKLY CHILD

Restored to Health by Vinol—Letter to Mothers.

Anxious mothers often wonder why their children are so pale, thin and nervous and have so little appetite. For the benefit of such mothers in this vicinity we publish the following letter.

J. Edmund Miller, New Haven, Conn., says: "My little daughter, ever since her birth, had been frail and sickly, and was a constant source of worry. Several months ago we commenced to give her Vinol. I immediately noted an improvement in her health and appearance. I gave her three bottles of Vinol, and from the good it has done her I can truly say it will do all you claim."

This child's recovery was due to the combined action of the medicinal elements extracted from cod liver, combined with the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron, which are contained in Vinol.

Vinol will build up and strengthen delicate children, old people and the weak, run-down and debilitated. We return the money in every case where it fails.

Local Mention.

Less than two weeks until Christmas.

The King road drag is now being given a trial on Muhlenberg roads.

The freeze Monday morning was the most severe of the winter.

Orion L. Roark was in Louisville a day or so during the week.

Mr. Marvin Wells was in Louisville yesterday.

"Bob White" is without doubt the best flour on earth.

Prof. Raymer Tinsley was in Louisville last Saturday on business.

Mrs. W. M. Williams was in Owensboro a few days this week with friends.

Dr. Liggett Bailey was in Louisville this week on professional business.

Tuesday was like a windy, dusty March day, and it was uncomfortable to be out on the streets.

Get in on that wallpaper clearance at Roark's; never bought at such low prices before.

People are so busy with Christmas shopping that nothing else has time to happen.

Buy sensible holiday gifts—furniture from Roark's will prove a lasting delight.

Coal is now being shipped in, and this will relieve a situation that was becoming serious.

It will pay you to look at the wallpaper bargains now on at Roark's.

It is now almost impossible to do your Christmas shopping early, but do it at once.

It appears a shame that we are to have no concerts, lectures, or such entertainments here this winter.

When you get "Quail" meal you get the best that is to be had.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil E. Roark spent Sunday with relatives and friends in South Carrollton.

Mr. W. R. Givens, of East Prairie, Mo., is here on a visit to the family of Mr. J. F. Petty and other relatives.

Mr. Guy O. Corley, who has been in North Dakota for two years, arrived at home the first of the week.

Miss Grace Bohannon, who has been in Lexington for two weeks with friends, has returned.

Baby buggies at Roark's.

Farmers' Institute.

The annual county farmers' institute for this county will be held at Greenville, December 16th and 17th, 1912. The General Assembly of Kentucky has made provision for holding these institutes free of cost to the farmers of Kentucky. The State Department of Agriculture will furnish two state lecturers on farm topics and a lady lecturer upon household affairs. Lecturers from the State Board of Health, Forestry and Good Roads Department of the State Government will also be present as well as local speakers. All are invited and urged to attend. Farm life in all its phases will be discussed. If you want to grow better crops in a more economical way, study your own interests and help develop the State. Come and bring your neighbors. This meeting is held under the direction of the State Board of Agriculture of Kentucky. Attend and help make the agricultural interests a greater factor in the development of the State.

W. C. T. U. Elect Officers.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union held their regular meeting on last Wednesday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. rooms. Some of the officers were absent, but the president was present and we had a very interesting meeting.

The following superintendents were appointed for the year:

Alms House—Mrs. Jennie Roark.
Anti Narcotics—Mrs. Lucy Lovell.
Flower Mission—Mrs. Frank Richardson.
Sabbath Observance—Mrs. T. N. Belcher.
Purity—Mrs. Felix Rice.
Literature—Mrs. L. Z. Kirkpatrick.
Press—Mrs. V. H. Franklin.

Social meeting was postponed until third Wednesday in Jan. 1913.

Mrs. V. H. FRANKLIN, Supt. Press

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Willis, of Powderly, have the sympathy of their many friends in the loss of their first-born, a girl, which came to their home Monday night. Interment was in the Eaves graveyard Tuesday afternoon.

The many friends of Mrs. J. T. Pendleton at this, her old home, will be pleased to learn that she is now in business for herself, having recently opened a place in Lexington, where for many years she has been employed by one of the leading establishments, and has had every advantage of studying styles and materials as buyer in this country and in Europe, and with rare natural talents, she is most excellently qualified and equipped to care for the wants of ladies in the way of dresses, wraps, lingerie, millinery, etc.

Rev. Josiah W. Godby and wife have been here some days on a visit to relatives and friends, and will remain a short while longer. They have many friends here, where Mrs. Godby was reared, and where Rev. Godby was for some years on the circuit as a minister. They are now in the Kentucky conference, and located at Milton. Sunday night Mr. Godby occupied the pulpit at the Methodist church and delivered an inspiring, feeling sermon. He has had long service in the ministry and is a power for good.

Shoot Each Other at Powderly.

On Wednesday night of last week there was a shooting scrape at Powderly, and both participants were wounded. The difficulty was between Zeke Barnes and Bob Dukes, and there have been several varying reports as to the cause, but it is said that both were drinking, and that there was little else to it. Both used shotguns, Dukes being shot in the leg and Barnes getting a wound in the side. Neither was seriously injured.

Mr. W. E. Charles, who was to have assisted in the revival services at the Methodist church, was here Monday, and at night delivered a sermon at the church, and conducted the singing. He has a fine voice, and is a splendid musical director, and made a very favorable impression here in his work.

Mrs. Thomas Blankenship died suddenly at her home near Drakesboro at 10:30 o'clock last Friday night from heart trouble. Burial was in the graveyard at Ebenezer Saturday afternoon, and was largely attended. She is survived by her husband and three children, Mrs. John Martin, of this city, being a daughter.

The protracted revival service that was planned to have been started at the Methodist church last Monday night has been postponed indefinitely on account of the illness of Rev. Pat Davis, who was to have assisted the pastor. Rev. Davis is ill of pneumonia at Owensboro, but was reported better yesterday.

Mr. J. H. Pittman, the new game warden, is making a most efficient public servant, and there will be general observance of the law after he has been in a few months. Last week he arrested two men near Graham who were out hunting without a license; they have offered to confess to a fine of $50, it is said, but the case will be tried out. Indiscriminate hunting with or without license, is a thing of the past in this state, and people had as well find it out quickly, and save trouble and expense.

Telephone No 5 and your laundry will be called for and delivered.

Late—But Wait.

Christmas is coming along at the same old time this year as formerly; it always gets here before most of us are ready, but for G. E. Countzler, the druggist, it is arriving entirely too quick—that is, he is less ready than ever before. But he has bought a large selection of entirely new goods, which are arriving, and so he asks you to wait for just a few days, in the closing of your orders for holiday remembrances, as he will have the articles and will make the prices even more attractive. Everybody is invited to call and see the offerings.

DOULTRY

FEW LESSONS WITH TURKEYS
Breeder of Twenty-Two Years' Experience Finds Business Here Profitable Each Year.

I have raised turkeys for sale 22 years, and find it a more profitable business each year, says a writer in the Farm and Fireside.

I have had to learn many lessons by quite an expensive route. One year I killed entirely by too close brooding. Another year I let my turkeys wander at their own will and soon found they planned. Again I allowed them to go up in the trees—a hard lesson to learn—and I learned it the hard way. Since these lessons I have worked differently.

I choose other brooding hens or some every other year. I usually buy a thoroughbred house hen, some of the best, and find their points more healthy. One early turkey is more profitable than three late ones, so I use the first eggs and sell the later ones. Chickens hens are set on the first laying and the poultry given to the first turkey hen that becomes broody. Large, dry pens or coops with slatted floors are built quite a distance from the house.

The hens are kept up two weeks, and then turned out every morning, unless the weather becomes rainy. They have learned to come when called, and will answer me from ever so far when I call "Pee-tuck! Come on!" I am never too busy or too tired to get them up at the approach of a hard storm, and at four o'clock in the evening. They soon learn to come home. After they are five or six weeks old I never feed at noon.

I feed no starchy food, but have good feed with wheat or corn bread, cracked corn, cooked soft, wheat, mashed potatoes, etc.

The first two weeks are the most particular. I give each part a grain of black pepper when it is 24 hours old, and a stroke of hard or varnish from bill to top of head.

Then a feed of hard-boiled egg, shell and all, crushed fine, mixed with bread soaked soft and squeezed dry. Fresh water, sand, lime and ground charcoal are kept handy. They eat of all; I never feed too much. I never feed over four times a day, and that often only a week. More turkeys die from overfeeding than underfeeding. I use a flat board to sprinkle their feed on, and keep it clean. It pays to be cleanly with turkeys.

LEGHORN HENS AS MOTHERS

Although Called Nonsitters Occasionally One Is Found and Will Cover Many Eggs.

Although the Leghorns are called nonsitters, they do sit occasionally, and I like them very much as mothers. It would hardly seem possible that a Leghorn hen would cover more eggs than a Cocker, but it is a fact, say a writer in an exchange. The Cocker's wings are short and stubby, while the Leghorn's wings are long and she will spread them over a big nestful. Last summer a Leghorn incubated 29 eggs for me and hatched 19 of them. It was, however, in the month of July, and the nest was carefully arranged in a basket; but I never give them less than 15. They take excellent care of their young; being light weight, they seldom hurt a chick by stepping on it, and they will fight intruders fiercely.

Single-Comb Leghorn.

DOULTRY NOTES

Keep your stock healthy, clean and comfortable. Not all the failures of poultry life are due to the hens.

The first duck eggs of the season are hardly ever fertile.

Don't gorge the growing chicks one day and starve them the next. Any fowl is liable at times to produce an egg containing blood spots.

Well grown ducklings very often will begin laying at five months of age.

Chicks like heat, and it is good for them; but there is a difference in heat.

Don't let chicks squeeze through slatted coops until their bodies are deformed.

Poultry breeding as a parent is emotionally a labor of love, but it is, nevertheless, a labor.

"The Liver Pills act So Naturally and Easily."

Such a statement, coming from the cashier of a bank, shows what confidence responsible people have in these pills. Mr. A. L. Wilson after trying them wrote:

"I have used Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills, on myself, with good results. The Liver Pills act so naturally and so easily that I scarcely know that I have taken a pill. Frequently being troubled with headache I take an Anti-Pain Pill and get immediate relief in every case."

A. L. Wilson, Sparta, Ill.
Mr. Wilson was for a number of years cashier of the First National Bank of Sparta.

Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills are different from others. Many kinds of liver pills are "impossible" after one trial on account of their harshness. Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills do not act by sheer force but in an easy, natural way, without gripping or undue irritation. They are not habit forming.

If the first bottle fails to benefit, your druggist will return the price. Ask him. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not a true disease. We think of dyspepsia, indigestion, and indigestion as one and the same, yet they are symptoms of a certain specific disease.

It was this fact that first convinced Dr. Shoop of the necessity of the most powerful stomach and liver pills.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, being directed to the stomach and liver, brought that organ into its normal and healthy state, and thus the cause of the trouble was removed.

For stomach distress, indigestion, flatulence, and other ailments, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative. It will cure you, and what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

Very Serious

It is a very serious matter to ask for one medicine and have the wrong one given you. For this reason we urge you in buying to be careful to get the genuine—

THE FORD'S BLACK-DRAGHT Liver Medicine

The reputation of this old, reliable medicine, for constipation, indigestion and liver trouble, is firmly established. It does not irritate other medicines. It is better than others, or it would not be the favorite liver powder, with a larger sale than all others combined.
